Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is a process where a student may be granted credit or partial credit towards a qualification in recognition of skills and knowledge gained through work experience, life experience and/or formal training. MEGT Institute offers all students the opportunity to apply for Skills Recognition at enrolment in the course.

Entry requirements

No minimum education entry requirements. Students must complete a study skills assessment for basic literacy and numeracy. MEGT Institute require students enrolling in this workplace-based course to be employed in a business environment performing a range of business duties where they manage, lead, guide or support others and have some responsibility for organising and monitoring the output of other while also assuming responsibility for their own performance or in the position to be able to develop leadership skills in an industry context.

Training and assessment methods

Students receive access to engaging, interactive course content and coaching and mentoring by a qualified MEGT Institute facilitator. A combination of assessment tasks including written reports and projects will be utilised for assessment. We also value the role of the workplace in the assessment process and ask supervisors to provide feedback on the students' abilities via an easy to complete third party report.
